Knowland Says Congress May Hold Up Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland put Britain and France on notice Thursday that Congress might hold up foreign aid appropriations to spur them into acting on America's call for Allied unity against Asiatic Communism.

Knowland spoke out shortly before the State Department announced that Secretary Dulles may fly to London and Paris for urgent consultations on the Indo-China crisis.

The California senator cited evidence that Britain and France were in no hurry to respond to Dulles' overtures for a 10-nation coalition to bolster the anti-Red fight in southeast Asia.

Knowland said the "want to take a new reading" based on what happens at the forthcoming Geneva conference with the Communists, Knowland told newsmen, then Congress might take a new reading of its own.

He put it this way: "Since some of the nations with which we are associated have been suggesting they wait until Geneva before deciding how to respond to Secretary Dulles' inquiries regarding their willingness to join in collective action should there be further aggression in southeast Asia I find growing sentiment in Congress that perhaps it should delay until after Geneva before determining its final policy regarding appropriations in support of those NATO countries—particularly those dragging their feet insofar as EDC is concerned."

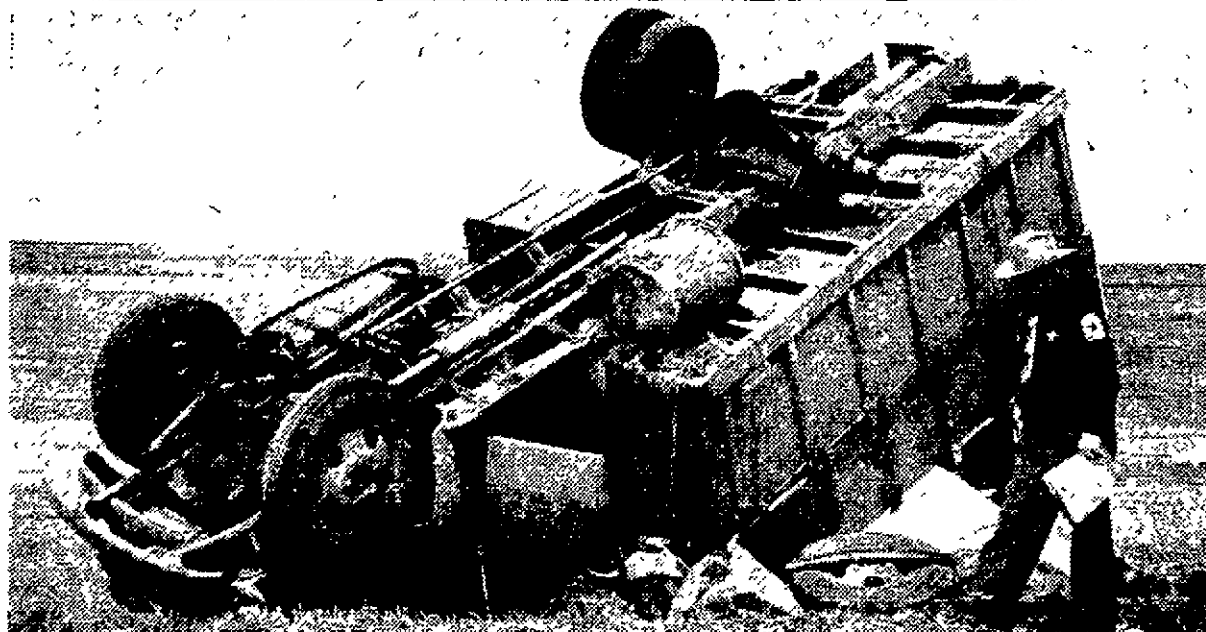

This last apparently was aimed directly at France, which has put off time and again taking any action on ratifying the six-nation European Defense Community (EDC).

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) said: "The time has come when our Allies must stand up and be counted. If they're not with us, they should not be getting help from us."

Britain and France have balked at Dulles' proposal for a joint Western declaration and a 10-nation defense agreement to ward off any further Communist aggression in southeast Asia.

Diplomatic officials said they understood Dulles planned to leave by special Air Force plane Sunday for London for two days of talks with Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Polio Vaccine Attacked, Defended At Emergency Medical Society Meet

By B. R. ROTHENBERGER
Star Staff Writer

Whether Lancaster County's school children will join in the nationwide test of the new Salk anti-polio vaccine hangs on two questions.

One is the timely arrival of the as-yet-unready vaccine. The other turns on whether the Lancaster County Medical Society will continue its earlier support of the test.

Thursday night's effort to get a show of hands on the latter was delayed when an emergency meeting of physicians failed to produce a quorum.

Dr. J. Marshall Neely, president-elect of the Lancaster Medical Society, said a special meeting would be convened immediately for a decisive vote.

The physicians, whose meeting was open to the PTA, to school officials, state health representatives and others, were told by Dr. Carl J. Potthoff, Rochester, Minn., regional medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, that the vaccine is presently under massive production.

He accounted for its delay by failure of commercial laboratories to produce an effective vaccine in their initial efforts plus the foundation's requirement of a minimum 42-day period to complete control tests in some 3,000 instances of pilot vaccinations.

Conflicting Opinion
There was conflicting opinion among Lincoln physicians both on the safety of the vaccine and on the advisability of administering the tests late in the spring.

Dr. Ernest Hancock, a member of the state polio co-ordinating committee asserted that the favorable time for the tests had already passed. But he reminded that the committee still approved the test with deadline provisions.

McCarthy Critic Is Indicted

Tending To Incite Murder Charged

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—A Federal Grand Jury indicted publisher H. M. Greenspun of the Las Vegas Sun on a charge that he authored material tending to "incite the murder or assassination" of Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

The criminal complaint charged specifically that Greenspun, a fiery critic of the Wisconsin senator, "caused to be deposited for mailing 874 copies of the Jan. 8, 1954, issue of the Las Vegas Sun which contained non-mailable matter of an indecent character tending to incite murder or assassination."

Conviction on the charge carries a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine or five years imprisonment or both.

The Grand Jury was called on a complaint made by the U. S. Postal Department in Washington, D. C.

It was reported that Senator McCarthy turned the articles over to the Solicitor General of the postal inspection division.

U. S. Attorney Madison B. Graves presented the report of postal authorities and the Justice Department to the Federal Grand Jury summoned in Las Vegas.

The article in question, which was included as part of the indictment, was written under Greenspun's signature and said in part:

"I have never been one to make predictions but when a thing is inevitable, even I can foresee the future. Sen. Joe McCarthy has to come to a violent end. Huey Long's death will be serene and peaceful compared with the demise of the sadistic bum from Wisconsin."

"Live by the sword and you die by the sword!" "Destroy people and they in turn must destroy you."

"The chances are that McCarthy will eventually be laid to rest at the hand of some poor innocent slab whose reputation and life he has destroyed through his well-established smear technique."

The indictment also quoted Greenspun's article as charging Sen. McCarthy with alleged immoral conduct and said the Las Vegas publisher demanded any hearings be televised.

British Jetliner Missing

21 Persons Aboard Comet

LONDON (Friday) (AP)—British Overseas Airways Corp. said early today that one of its big jet Comet airliners with 21 persons aboard has vanished on a flight from Rome to Cairo.

A spokesman said the plane carried 14 passengers and a crew of seven South Africans.

Sir Miles Thomas, BOAC chairman immediately suspended all Comet services pending further information. This was the second time the Comets have been grounded this year.

An air and sea search was launched from Malta and Rome, but there was little hope that anything could be learned until dawn.

The Comets, the world's first jet airliners, went into service with BOAC in May, 1952, and can carry 36 passengers. They are being used by BOAC on its lines from Britain to Johannesburg, South Africa, Tokyo, Singapore and Colombo, Ceylon.

"Making Altitude"
The missing Comet left Rome in perfect weather at 6:25 p.m. GMT (12:25 p.m. CST) yesterday and was due in Cairo at 9:20 p.m. (3:20 p.m. CST). Its fuel would have been exhausted two hours after its scheduled arrival time in Cairo.

"We are making altitude," said the last message from the sleek airliner. It was received half an hour after it left Rome's Ciampino Airport.

Officer Shot After Chase

Posses Out In Search of Man Believed To Be Killer

By GLENN SPEIDEL
Star Staff Writer

VALENTINE, Neb.—Armed posses were scattered over the hills north and east of here early Friday morning searching for a man believed to have shot and killed State Patrolman Marvin L. Hansen.

Hansen was shot and killed shortly after midnight Thursday while pursuing a man wanted for questioning in connection with some cars believed to have been stolen.

The story of the shooting as told by Cherry County Attorney W. B. Quigley at Valentine is as follows:

About midnight Valentine law enforcement officers were alerted that some stolen cars being transported east from Los Angeles, Calif., were due to pass near Valentine.

The information received by the officers was that the cars were being transported by two brothers, Lloyd and Leon Gransinger.

The officers closed in on two cars that fitted the description of the warning about 12 miles east of Valentine in very rough country.

After the cars were stopped, officers found the front one was driven by Leon Gransinger. His brother, Lloyd, was driving the rear car.

Leon got out of his car and was taken into custody by Cherry County Sheriff William Freeman, while Patrolman Hansen went to the rear car to get Lloyd Gransinger.

But Lloyd jumped out of the car and ran into the hills. Officers said, Hansen went in pursuit. Shortly after the officers heard shooting.

After Leon had been securely tied, the other officers, Sheriff Freeman, Valentine, Chief of Police, Regler and Valentine Mayor Robert Hamilton, went to assist Hansen.

About 300 feet west of the cars, they found Hansen shot and severely wounded. He was rushed to Valentine but was dead upon arrival at the hospital.

Quigley said because of the nature of the area there little would be done until daylight.

Lloyd Gransinger was known to be armed and dangerous. Aged 22, he is about 5 feet, six inches tall and weighs 145 pounds.

Black-haired and brown-eyed, he was wearing a brown sports jacket and trousers.

Attorney Quigley said the Gransinger brothers are the sons of Paul Gransinger who lives about 45 miles northeast of Valentine, near Clearfield, S. Dak.

37 Killed In Canada

MOOSE JAW, Saskatchewan, (INS)—An RCAF training plane rammed a trans-canada airliner in midair over Moose Jaw, and both planes plummeted to the ground, killing 37 persons, including a maid working in a house.

The giant North Star liner, carrying 31 passengers and a crew of four, caught fire and plunged onto a golf course in a massive ball of fire, setting three homes ablaze.

A flaming gas tank smashed into the home of Gordon Hunter, killing the housemaid and burning the nine room house to the ground.

All 35 persons aboard the liner and the pilot of the trainer were killed. The pilot of the trainer was identified as an Englishman training with the Canadian Air Force. His name was withheld.

The flaming wreckage fell less than two blocks from crowded Roff School, Moose Jaw's largest grammar school.

—Rebels Get Set For New Dien Bien Phu Push—

Cambodia Fears A Vietminh Invasion

King Mobilizes Forces; Prepares An Appeal To The United Nations

PARIS, (UP)—The French Press Agency said Thursday the king of Cambodia has mobilized forces to combat a Vietminh "invasion" of his Indo-Chinese state and was preparing an appeal to the United Nations.

The agency said King Norodom Sihanouk took personal command of French forces sent to bolster his own troops after Red-led Vietminh swept across the Laos border into Cambodia last week.

The French command in Saigon has refused to call the Vietminh thrust into Cambodia an invasion. They said it involved only two rebel battalions—remnants of the recent Laos campaign.

(However, the Chinese Communist Radio asserted that Communist-led rebels in Indo-China had scored their first major success in Cambodia, seizing the "French stronghold" of Voeun Sai.)

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—French union guns smashed fresh Vietminh entrenchments around embattled Dien Bien Thursday as the French fought to keep encircling rebels from trying another death blow before the rains come.

The French poured grenades and tank gun shells on the winding trenches as word went out that the Vietminh commander, Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, was moving up his forces for another attempt to break through to the bastion's vital core.

French troops, spearheaded by tanks and aided by artillery, fighters and bombers, were able to sweep out nearly two miles west and southwest without encountering heavy rebel resistance.

The bomber and fighter planes dropped half-ton high explosive bombs all around the dust bowl and strafed the rebels in the trenches.

Dig New Fox Holes

But, despite the withering French gunfire and savage ground attacks by the bastion's defenders, the rebels stubbornly dug new fox holes and trenches within 600 yards of the barbed wire barriers guarding the heart of Dien Bien Phu.

Time was growing short for Giap if he hoped to make good his plan for a big victory before the Geneva conference starts April 26. Seasonal monsoon rains, due before the end of the month, will turn the dust bowl into a sea of mud and stop all large scale operations.

Heavy rains already have begun to drench the hill-ringed plain, heralding the approach of the monsoon.

U Of N Singers' Program Is Outstanding And Inspirational

By LOUIS CASIMER

The University Singers of the University of Nebraska presented an outstanding program of sacred music Thursday night before a capacity audience in the Student Union Ballroom. The red-robed singers, under the direction of Dr. Arthur Westbrook, gave an inspirational performance before a setting appropriate for the Lenten season.

Easter is one of the most important festivals of the church, second only to Christmas. As such, it has been the inspiration for great music throughout the centuries. A representative group of numbers, ranging from 16th century to modern, was expertly programmed for last night's concert.

Four of the better-known works of Palestrina were sung unaccompanied, featuring a variety of the master's writing. The voices blended expertly in producing a beauty of sound which is characteristic only of a cappella singing. These numbers contrasted nicely with the selection "And He That Doth Search the Hearts" by Bach, in which the vigorous, contrapuntal melodies were accentuated by the organ accompaniment.

One of Highlights

The second group included Kalinnikof's "O Lamb of God," which was one of the highlights of the concert. The composer's feel for harmony and drama, plus the excellent interpretation of the singers, made this a very effective number. Two Easter Carols, arranged by Gaul, and the ever-popular Negro Spiritual "Were You There," arranged by Burleigh, completed the group.

A brass ensemble, playing from the balcony, provided an interesting contrast to the choral numbers when they played a group of Bach Chorales.

The feature work of the evening was the "Te Deum" by Kodaly. The performance was excellent by both the chorus and soloists. Featured voices were: Shirley Alpuerto, And one a Chronopoulos, Robert Wallace and Elton Monismith. The work was written in grandiose style with a deep religious fervor. It combines modern harmonies, expertly written contrapuntal melodies rooted in Hungarian folk songs, and some a cappella choruses reminiscent of early church music. Accompaniments were played by Julia Turpen at

Matching Funds Needed Before Bills Aid State

... Federal Road Proposals Could Be Beneficial

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Two highway bills passed this week by Congress would greatly increase the amount of federal money available to Nebraska for matching for highway construction, if the state had the matching funds.

The state in 1954 could get approximately $9,000,000 by matching available federal road funds. Under a House approved bill, the state would be able to get $12,600,000 and the Senate bill is for approximately $14,500,000 available to Nebraska.

Biggest increase in the federal funds provided could only be used on the "inter-state system" a high standard, limited access highway that would connect all state capitals and principal cities. It is designed primarily as a defense or military highway. Federal funds would provide 60 per cent of the cost and the states 40 per cent.

All other federal highway aid is on a 50-50 matching basis. Under the Senate bill population of the various states is made a part of the formula for distribution on the inter-state system, but not on other funds made available.

This formula would reduce the allocation to Nebraska and other low population states for the inter-state system. The populous states that would gain number 19 and 29 less populous states would lose from change in formula for the one particular road.

State Engineer L. N. Ress will tour the proposed inter-state system in Nebraska with representatives of Bureau of Roads next week. Exact place of entry in the state from the east has not been determined, but it probably will be one of the bridges near Omaha out of the congested area.

The route would then follow U. S. 6 to a point north of Lincoln and then west to a point south of Grand Island. It would then generally follow the present U. S. 30 route although it has not been determined on which side of the Platte River it would be built.

Aim of the routing is to bypass all congested city areas with access roads to serve local needs.

Ress will discuss with the federal officials the possibility of lower standards of construction in sections of the state where traffic is light. Present standards are so high that the cost is considered above the ability of the state to pay in many sections.

Present and proposed funds which would be available to Nebraska are:

	Present	House bill	Sen bill
Primary	$4,400,000	$3,200,000	$6,700,000
Secondary	3,300,000	3,700,000	4,700,000
Urban	700,000	870,000	1,100,000
Inter-state	485,000	2,700,000	2,000,000

It Happened In NEBRASKA...

Hostile Indians were a constant threat to the young, adventurous Pony Express riders operating almost 100 years ago. Well-known though it is to us today, the Pony Express operated for only 18 months! This short-lived business was a project of a famous Nebraska City freighting firm.

Another part of the Old West long disappeared is the colorful "bar room." Today's modern, quiet, well-regulated taverns are a respected part of community living. They are retail businesses like any other.

India Seeks Disaster Warning In U.N.

Will Offer Bomb-Ban Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U)—India asked the United Nations to put Prime Minister Nehru's atomic-hydrogen standstill proposal before the Disarmament Commission, meeting Friday as a warning against disaster.

Nehru has become a keynoter among those expressing alarm over recent atomic and hydrogen developments. He accompanied his bomb-ban proposal with an expression of sympathy for Japanese fishermen and others exposed to effects of hydrogen blasts carried out by the United States in the Pacific.

Rajeshwar Dayal, India's permanent representative at the U. N., called on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld and gave him a copy of Nehru's atomic speech to the Indian Parliament last Friday.

Official Document
Dayal asked that the speech be circulated to members of the commission as an official document.

The commission is made up of the 11 nations of the U.N. Security Council, including the Big Five powers, and Canada.

In his address, Nehru spoke of "the latest of all the dread weapons of war, the hydrogen bomb and its known and unknown consequences and horrors."

He proposed "some sort of what may be called 'standstill' agreement" on experimental explosions of H- and A-bombs "even if arrangements about the discontinuance and stock-piling must await more substantial agreements among those principally concerned."

2 Serving Time For Torture Slaying Among 16 Cases Set For Pardon Airing

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The State Pardon Board has set 16 pleas for clemency for hearing on May 12 including two men who pleaded guilty to second degree murder.

William Gowen, 37, of Cherry County and Bernard Oots, 44, Slater, Mo., were given life terms in 1939 for the slaying of George Harris, 81-year-old rancher, after torturing him and requiring him to write checks in the amount of $120 in August of 1936.

he body of the aged man was not found for a week and was so decomposed that it was not determined that he had died from violence. Three years later Gowen told Denver police of the crime and his story was confirmed by Oots, both of whom pleaded guilty.

Jacques Palmer, who was with them at the time of the murder pleaded not guilty and was acquitted. In 1951, the life sentence imposed on the two men was reduced to 35 years.

While Gowen and Oots were confined in the county jail awaiting trial other prisoners broke out, but the two men refused to accompany them.

State Patrol Is Checking For Pilots

Col. C. J. Sanders said an inventory is being taken of the airplane pilots in the State Patrol. The check is being made in connection with plans to use planes in spotting traffic violations on the highway.

Director James Ramsey of the Aeronautics Commission has invited plane owners to submit bids on rental of planes by the hour. But the planes will be flown by patrolmen.

Col. Sanders said there are six pilots among patrolmen assigned to the Fremont area, and several others scattered throughout the state.

Also Observer

Two men would be assigned to each plane—one as pilot and one as observer.

"Speed isn't the only thing we can check from the air," Sanders explained.

He said improper passing, reckless driving, "weaving in and out" of traffic, failure to observe stop signs and following too close to the vehicle ahead are some of the other violations which can be detected from a plane.

Gov. Robert Crosby has announced that radar also will be used to check speeding on the highways.

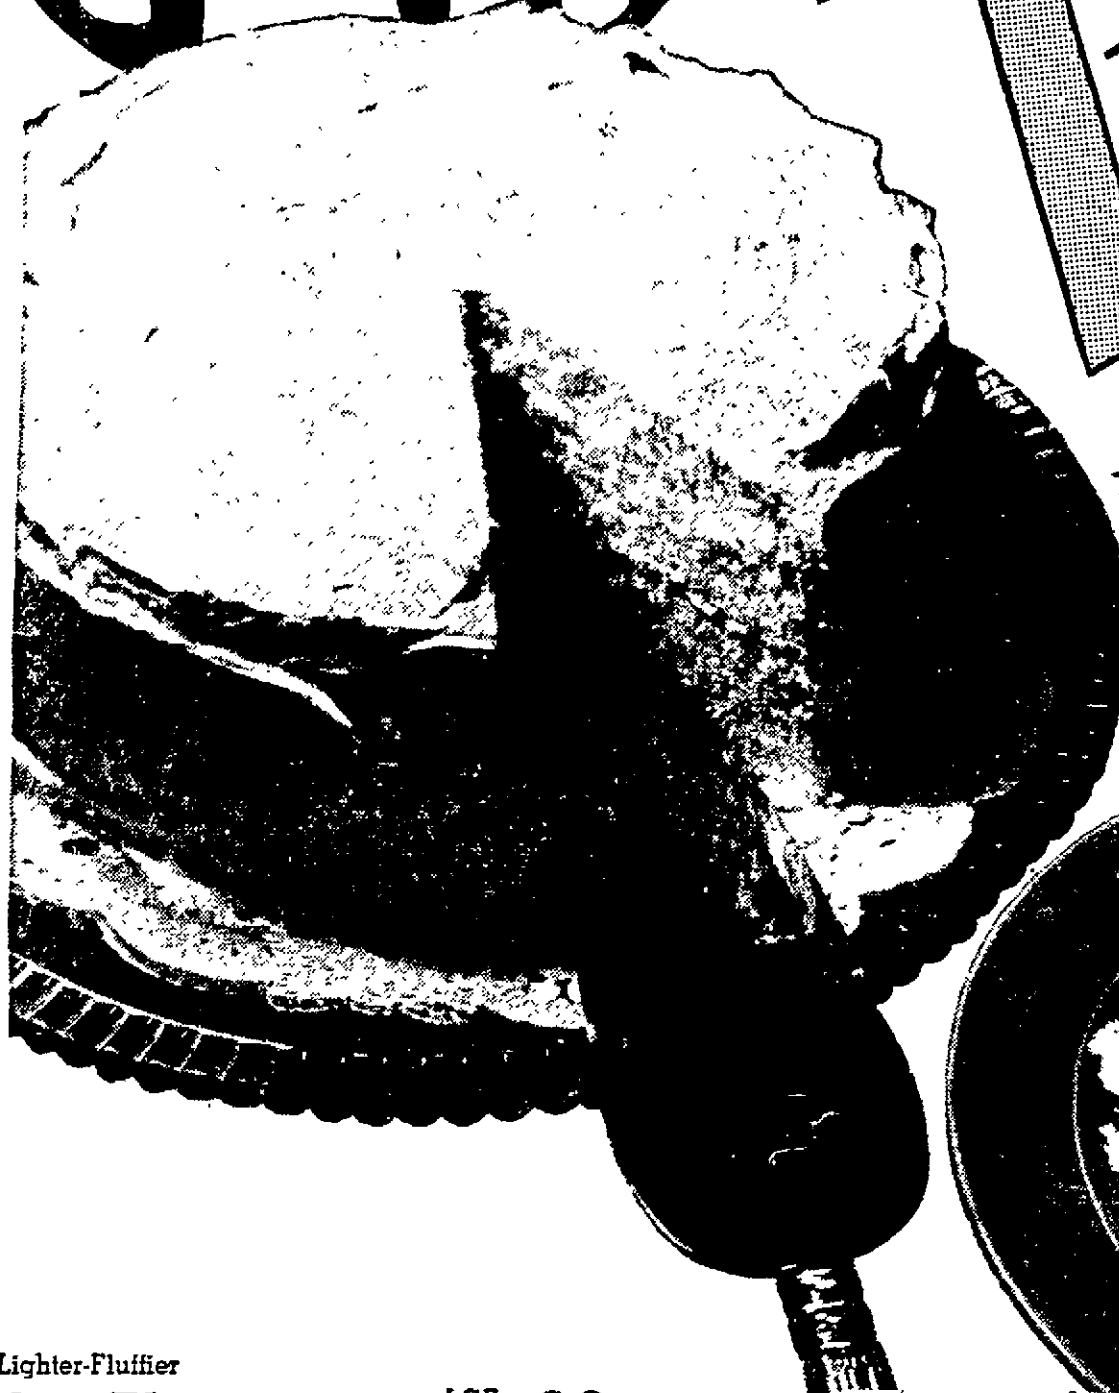

The third step to tighten up on enforcement of traffic regulations is to relieve the patrol of the chore of operating truck weighing stations and giving drivers' license examinations.

When the new scale operators and license examiners go on duty about July 1, twenty-six uniformed patrolmen now assigned to those chores will take to the road.

Month Of March Hardest On Dry Southwest Area

Snow Aids Wheat In Panhandle

March was the third consecutive month with no precipitation of consequence in southwestern Nebraska, the monthly Weather Bureau report said.

Average precipitation for the state as a whole was near normal, but distribution was bad. The north and most of the Panhandle got heavy amounts, while the south was dry.

Lack of moisture, along with strong winds, caused damage to wheat in the southwest.

Most oats were sown in the south, but in the north the ground was either covered with snow or too wet to till.

Calf Losses Up

The cold snowy weather was unfavorable for livestock, with losses of new calves slightly above normal. While heavy feeding was required, the supply generally was ample.

The snow was not blown off the fields and was beneficial to wheat in the Panhandle, but alternate freezing and thawing were unfavorable for wheat there.

Vegetation was no further advanced by the end of the month than it had been at the beginning.

Unseasonably cold weather spread over the state the first few days of the month, March 12 to 15, and again the last four days of the month.

A storm March 11 to 13 brought blizzard conditions in the Panhandle and north central part of the state, freezing rain in the northeast and mud showers in the southeast.

Mud showers were repeated in the southeast March 18, when strong winds caused considerable soil erosion in the southwest. This storm also brought heavy snow in the north.

Lows for the month ranged from 13 degrees below zero at Gordon to between 5 and 10 degrees above in the southeast, mostly during the last four days of the month.

Highs of near 60 degrees in the northeast to 75 in the south were recorded March 6, 10 or 17.

Crosby's, Terry's Ideas On Special Session Differ

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (P) — Gov. Crosby said he intends to hold his special legislative session call strictly to taxation matters.

Sen. Carpenter, Scottsbluff, thinks it should be extended.

Carpenter said he believes the call should include highway relocation matters and drought relief measures for South west Nebraska, the latter to include loans or grants to the dry areas.

Morris, Briggs Tie For Stella Town Board Post

Embezzlement Charge Faces Postal Clerk

Harold E. Diller, 38, Fairbury Postoffice money order clerk, who was arraigned Thursday before the U.S. Commissioner in Lincoln on a complaint charging embezzlement of $940.40 in postal funds between July 1 and Dec. 31, 1953, has been released under $2,000 bond.

Commissioner Sterling Mutz said the case would either be certified to the Federal District Court here, or a presentment of evidence made to the next grand jury.

The authorized complaint was made by Postal Inspector J. A. Bradley who investigated the alleged shortages.

Found in Cabin

Diller was located by Sheriff Deyo Hughes at a cabin about eight miles from Fairbury and was turned over to postal authorities here Thursday.

In his signed statement, Diller admitted embezzlement of the money "by altering money order applications to lesser amounts," according to Bradley.

Diller reportedly admitted awareness that a regional audit would show the shortage, Bradley said.

Diller, who has a wife and three children, was born in Diller, named for his ancestors.

He has been employed by the Postoffice since November, 1947, and has been in the money order department for about three years. He served in World War II.

Two Gordon Men Given Jail Terms

CHADRON, Neb. (P) — Robert Walton, 22, and Mickey Shelley, 21, both of Gordon, have been sentenced to six months in the Dawes County jail on assault and battery charges growing out of the death of Jessie Red Hawk, 16, Pine Ridge, S. D.

Sentence was imposed by District Judge E. L. Meyer of Alliance, who denied a plea by the attorney for the two men that time they had spent in jail prior to sentencing count against the six months.

Walton was tried on a manslaughter charge but the jury found him guilty of assault and battery. Later Shelley pleaded guilty to the same charge. The girl was killed when, after struggling with Walton in a car, she tumbled from the vehicle and was hit by a car going in the opposite direction.

Sewage Plant Might Bring No Extra Tax

Lincoln Star Special
BEATRICE, Neb. — Utility Manager George Miller told Beatrice Kiwanians that a sewage disposal plant could be built here and paid for without any additional taxes. The sewer rental plan, by which charges would be made on the basis of the amount of water used by consumers, would pay for the plant, Miller said. He estimated these charges would possibly average 75 cents to $1.25 cents per month for the average home user.

Miller, who addressed the Kiwanis Club weekly luncheon, estimated the cost of a sewage disposal plant at between $400,000 to $600,000.

"Sooner or later Beatrice will be forced to install a sewage disposal plant," Miller said. "This may be by either state or federal authority and even if it is only a primary treatment plant at first it will certainly have to be expanded to full treatment in time," Miller added.

He suggested financing over a short period of time, such as 10 to 15 years, if the city should choose to begin with a primary treatment plant. The reason for this being that probably within that time full treatment would have to be installed. Miller also discussed present sewer problems in the city and the method of tying the sewers into such a proposed plant.

Anderson Declares Cut In Taxes Possible If Spending Is Down

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb. (AP)—Victor E. Anderson, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, declared Thursday "if we want to cut taxes, we must cut spending."

The former Lincoln mayor and former legislator was the speaker at Thursday's meeting of the Nebraska City Optimists Club.

In his address, Anderson said he was "glad the governor has seen the wisdom of calling the Legislature into session to give the proper consideration to the most paramount issue in the minds of Nebraska citizens—the subject of taxes."

But broadening the tax base and shuffling taxes from one source of revenue to another is "not the complete answer to the problem we face in Nebraska," Anderson continued.

"If we are to reduce taxes we must reduce spending," he said. Anderson explained the governor is responsible for making up the budget and from his executive position has power to reduce and adjust appropriation requests.

Beatrice Firm Into Hands Of Banking Dept.

BEATRICE, Neb. (AP)—Having found assets of the Home Savings and Loan Assn. here to be less than its liabilities, the State Banking Department has taken possession of the institution.

The move was announced Thursday in a joint notice issued by J. S. McLain, director of the Banking Department, and the board of directors of the association.

A spokesman for the board said shortages were discovered in an audit begun last Friday.

A few hours later Paul O. Staehs, 56, secretary-treasurer of the association, was found dead in his car. Sheriff E. G. Maxwell said Staehs shot himself.

Audit Continues
When the audit revealed that assets of the association including a $35,000 fidelity bond were less than the liabilities, the Banking Department posted its notice. The board spokesman said the best estimate at present is that the discrepancy is about $16,000 more than the bond or somewhat in excess of $50,000. The audit is continuing.

The banking department order called for a meeting of shareholders here April 17 to decide whether to reorganize or to liquidate the association.

Clifford Schroeder is president of the association.

Stock Market Advances To New High For Year

From Press Dispatches
NEW YORK — A new high mark for the year was scored by the Stock Market Thursday in a strong advance.
The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained $1 at $118 10, a new high for the year and the best level for the average in around 24 years.
It was the second straight day of recovery since the market fell away from the peak levels of the year, and the rise more than erased previous losses.
$1 and $3 Gains
Companies in the business of producing or processing metals and those with atomic interests were especially sought.
Gains went to between $1 and $3 a share in many instances, and losses were small and scattered.
Higher prices were paid for Vanadium, Climax Molybdenum, U. S. Steel, Boeing, U. S. Smelting, Kennecott Copper and Southern Pacific.
Wall Street brokers, who are seldom at a loss to account for the movement of prices, said Thursday's upsurge could be attributed to growing confidence that business indices would soon show definite evidence of an upward turn. Reports that the administration planned to push a public works program further bolstered bullish sentiment.
Financial analysts were especially impressed by the calibre of leadership on the rise. Among industrial issues to post gains of 1 to 2 points were General Motors, General Electric, Bethlehem Steel, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Union Carbide, Westinghouse, Standard Oil of Indiana and du Pont.

C. O. Norman Found Dead; Wound Said Self-Inflicted

C. O. Norman, 50, of 2218 W. a Burlington Railroad dining-car chef, was found dead Wednesday morning in his car near 8th and H.
Dep. Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele said the 32-caliber bullet wound above Norman's right ear was determined to be "self-inflicted" in a coroner's investigation.
"Positive" paraffin-chemical tests indicate the pistol, found on the car's floor was identified as owned by Norman, was fired by the man, Scheele said.
Norman's car, with its motor still running and automatic transmission engaged, was found in a ditch on 8th, Sheriff Merle Karnopp said.
Tracks in the dirt road indicate the car rolled some 50 or 60 feet, running partly up onto a yard, then back into the ditch.
Karnopp said the car could have been in motion when the shot was fired, but more likely that the car had been stopped, but the automatic shift not disengaged and a "creeping" of the gear set the car in motion and rolling down a slight incline.
Time of Norman's death was sometime between 4:30 a.m., when he left home for work, and 7 a.m., when the car was found.
Scheele said that, according to the man's wife, Norman had been under medical care and had been despondent for some time.
He had not been working for about 10 days, but was due to report for a Zephyr run early Thursday morning. He was due at his job about 6:15 a.m.
Scheele said the family had apparently also suffered a blow last year when fire caused heavy damage to their home.
Born in Oklahoma, Norman had lived in Lincoln about 20 years.
Surviving are his wife, Jewell, and sister, Mrs. Audie Evans of Greenwich, Conn., and Mrs. Myrtle Marchbanks of Tallihna, Okla.
Services will be at 2 p.m. Monday at Umberger's, the Rev. John R. Harris officiating.

May 10 Deadline For Filing Objections To Gordon Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The public has been given until May 10 to make objections to the Army Engineers Review board finding that a flood control plan for Gordon, Neb., is not economically justified.
On March 26 the Review board held that the $1,072,300 flood control plan would cost almost as much as the community is worth.
However, in compliance with the law, the Engineers have announced that until May 10 interested parties may submit statements and arguments "bearing upon the necessity and justification thereof" and if an oral hearing is desired, it should be requested.
The project would divert Antelope Creek, a tributary of the Niobrara River, around the town of Gordon. It also would provide a series of levees and dikes designed to protect the town from any flood of record and would straighten and enlarge the channels of Antelope Creek and North Fork.
The federal government cost would be about $892,300 and local cost $180,000.
The Review Board, in reversing the division engineer who recommended the project, said the property in the community is valued at only one and one-half million dollars, while the proposed work would cost slightly more than a million dollars.

Education's Future Is In Improving Quality — Bestor

The future of American education no longer lies in the realm of physical expansion, rather in the direction of improving the quality of education.

Dr. Arthur E. Bestor, University of Illinois professor of history and author of "Educational Wastelands," followed that theme in his speech Thursday evening before the 42nd annual meeting of the Nebraska History and Social Studies Association at the University of Nebraska Love Library.

The Illinois educator criticized "professional educationalists" who refuse "to recognize the fact that we have reached a point in educational history when the quantitative approach needs to be replaced by a qualitative one."

Indiscriminate enlargement of school facilities without particular concern for quality or efficiency paid off in the past, therefore as a policy it is good enough for the present and the future. Though professional educationalists fancy themselves modern and progressive, they are actually hidebound reactionaries of contemporary American education," Dr. Bestor said. He stated that the purpose of American education is to raise the intellectual level of the American people as a whole. The nation has now, after 75 years of building schools and lengthening the school term, reached the point where the law of diminishing returns largely cancels out the gains that once could be realized by simple physical or numerical expansion.

'Absurd' "It is nothing short of absurd to judge the effectiveness of our public schools today by comparing them with the achievements of the wretchedly inadequate schools of previous generations. That such comparisons should be offered by professional educationalists as a serious defense of what they are doing constitutes, in itself, a scandalous confession of failure," Dr. Bestor emphasized.

Dr. Bestor suggested ways of improving the intellectual standards of education as follows: 1. Build schools where none are now available. 2. Provide scholarship assistance for the genuinely impoverished children of the community. 3. Realize that there is no virtue in "holding" students in high school, if that "holding power" is achieved by watering down the curriculum.

'Not Graduation' Dr. Bestor believes that under our system of attendance laws, the high school is obliged to admit every child of appropriate age, but the high school is not obliged to graduate them. "The standard high school diploma should be awarded only to those who have earned it through conscientious effort in the basic intellectual disciplines of science, mathematics, history, English, and foreign languages," he stated. "Let there be another certificate, different from the standard diploma, to be given to the student

Dr. Arthur E. Bestor who remains in school for the full 12 years but enrolls in a vocation or 'life adjustment' program."

Dr. Bestor said that "In the new

Unlawful Sale Count Dismissed Against Omahan

Three state complaints against a former Lincoln man, O. M. Campbell, 57, of Omaha, and charging unlawful sale of securities without a license, have been dismissed in Lancaster County Court.

Preliminary hearing had been pending since last Feb. 26 when Campbell pleaded not guilty to the complaints involving three alleged transactions on March 8, 1951. Each had two counts alleging Campbell had sold oil stock without sale authorized by the State Banking Department and without having secured a permit to do business as a broker.

Certificates of ownership in the Omahne Oil Exploration Trust, an enterprise to develop and operate an oil and oil gas lease in Oklahoma were allegedly sold to Marshall G. Stahnke, Earl B. Anderson, and E. Burnham Anderson, all of Lincoln.

The county attorney's office said the complaints were dismissed at the request of the complaining witnesses, because complete restitution had been made, prosecution involved a technical violation for failure to secure a permit, and no moral turpitude or intentional fraud was perpetrated.

The complaints had been filed on a case investigation made by the State Banking Department.

As Tommy Lewis watches hungrily, sister Jean pours pint of cold milk into a bowl...

She adds box of chocolate Amazo (her favorite. Tommy doesn't care as long as it's ready to eat quick!)

Jean mixes for about half a minute. Amazo starts to thicken up into a creamy pudding, in seconds!

Then she spoons out six servings of smooth, nutritious pudding, all ready to eat!

9-year-old makes Amazo...the only pudding ready to eat in 30 seconds!

In little more than the time it took you to look at the pictures and captions above, young Jean Lewis whipped up six big portions of Amazo...ready to eat! It goes without saying that you can do the same!

That may be hard for you to believe, if you've never tried Amazo, the original instant pudding. For other "instants"—according to their own package instructions—require up to 15 minutes for mixing and setting.

Amazo is ready to eat the instant it's mixed. As you start mixing it with cold milk, you feel it start to thicken right away. Thirty seconds later—when other "instants" are still soupy—Amazo is smooth, fluffy, and ready to eat!

And what wonderful eating! Rich, true flavor—creamy and cool. When the family digs in, Amazo disappears in the time it took to make!

Standard Amazo flavors are chocolate, butterscotch and vanilla. And here's something special you can do only with Amazo. Using vanilla Amazo, replace the milk with two cups of fruit juice—like pineapple, apricot, prune. You can give your family a variety of new dessert treats!

Radar Fence Would Give U.S. Cities 6 Hours Notice Of Attack

Program In Arctic Announced

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Canada are setting up a new radar warning fence along the Tundra and ice of the Arctic perimeter in an effort to give the big cities to the south at least a six-hour notice of approaching enemy warplanes.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson said that preliminary work on the project is "well advanced." In a statement, similar to one issued simultaneously in Ottawa, the American defense chief also said that warning nets for the flanks stretching out over the oceans to either side of North America are being augmented.

The new, northern chain of radar sets to detect enemy planes and guide friendly planes to interception of an enemy force, is part of an intensified effort to tighten the guard against hydrogen or atomic attack across the North Pole.

Wilson said the United States and Canada started work on the new northern radar network soon after a meeting of Canadian and American chiefs of staff last November.

The new chain will be a "distant early warning line" far up beyond the "Pinetree Chain" which was started four years ago. Pinetree Chain is located to the south, in the populated area of the U. S. and Canada.

The new network, said Wilson, "will extend over thousands of miles." This indicated that it is designed to fill the gap existing between the radar warning system in Alaska and the airborne and ground detection systems in northern Greenland and Iceland.

Wilson pointed that the problem is difficult. A great number of possible sites are being studied and to reach many of them only tractor trains, used on winter snow and ice, or helicopters can be utilized. Even the operation of the radar stations, with their radio transmitters, must be designed to overcome such handicaps as the auroral belt, the strip along the Arctic Circle where the electrical manifestations of the northern lights interfere with electronic apparatus.

Because it is just as important to have early warnings of planes coming in from overseas, Wilson said, the United States is "extending the early warning barrier" across the seaward approaches to the continent.

This segment of aircraft warnings is operated primarily by the Navy, using radar mounted in big planes, which fly patrol where neither ships nor ground stations can operate, and by radar picket submarines and destroyers.

The beautiful selection of DECOR-MATIC Colors that you can now see at your nearest Devco dealer (listed below) didn't just come out of the blue sky. On the contrary. Months of research were spent on the project.

A survey was conducted in home furnishing stores throughout the country. In each store a team of researchers set up a large display of colors. House Passes Measure Legalizing Use Of Wire-Tap

'COURT PERMIT IS NEEDED'

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to legalize the use of wire-tap evidence against spies, traitors, saboteurs and other subversives.

Approval of the measure came after the House adopted, 378 to 10, a Democratic substitute requiring permission of the Federal Courts before wire-tap information could be used in future cases.

It would allow Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., to use evidence already in FBI files, however. Administration officials said this would permit prosecution of Communist spy cases now being held up.

WASHINGTON (P)—Nebraska's four Congressmen voted with the minority when the House passed a bill authorizing federal judges rather than the attorney general to issue final orders permitting wire tapping to obtain evidence. The vote was 221 to 166.

Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) who handled the bill on the floor, said the measure would permit the government to reopen prosecution of such cases as that of Judith Coplon, former government girl convicted of espionage, but subsequently released. Court reversed the conviction on the ground wire-tap evidence was used.

The vote was a defeat for the administration in its effort to vest authority for use of all wire-tapping evidence — past and future—in Brownell without any court restriction.

The legislation faces a doubtful future. Even strong supporters doubt the Senate will approve the measure and some opponents predict the Supreme Court might outlaw any wire-tapping.

The Justice Department has been intercepting telephone messages and other communications, but Federal Courts have refused to admit the evidence thus obtained.

Civil Liberties

The administration bill, sponsored by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) was attacked on the ground that it did not provide sufficient safeguards for American civil liberties.

Democratic leader Sam Rayburn, of Texas, declared that "attorneys general come and go" and are subject to human "railties," but the courts help to protect American institutions.

The GOP leadership made a determined fight for the measure to give the attorney general overall authority and "said Brownell" had stated that the Democratic proposal was unacceptable to him.

At one point, Republican Floor Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana proposed that the wire-tap authority be vested solely in FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. But he withdrew the proposal without a vote.

The Democratic measure was sponsored by Rep. Edwin E. Willis (D-La)

Bus Decision

The Railway Commission has instructed G. L. and Pal Whitcomb, doing business as Elkhorn Valley stages at Fremont, to show cause by May 7 if the bus line's operating authority is not to be revoked. A commission spokesman explained this is routine procedure where there is question about continued operation of the line.

New Insulin Holds Hope For Allergic Diabetics

By FRANK CAREY

CHICAGO (U)—Hopeful news for at least 25,000 diabetics in this country who sometimes get an allergic reaction, such as hives, from their insulin was reported to the American College of Physicians.

A new type of insulin, "quite free of local or general allergic

Housing Facilities Survey Planned

The executive committee of the Council of Human Relations voted to conduct a survey to determine the extent of Lincoln housing facilities available—particularly where welfare cases are concerned.

At the meeting individuals handling welfare cases indicated that "present Lincoln rentals could bear scrutiny." Rev. I. J. Dumas, pastor of the Unitarian Church and chairman of the council, said the survey will also attempt to determine what rentals, by any definition, can be called "reasonable."

The report of the survey findings are expected to be completed in 30 days and be presented to the Mayor's Council.

reactions," will "very probably" be placed on the market in this country in the future, said Dr. Arthur R. Colwell Sr., although he gave no estimate of date.

Colwell, of Northwestern University Medical School, told a special panel on diabetes at the physicians' annual meeting that the new insulin—developed in Denmark and already on the market in Great Britain—has been undergoing clinical investigation in this country and that a drug firm (Eli Lilly of Indianapolis) is now considering the possibilities of marketing it.

The physician said that unlike most other insulins now employed in the control of diabetes, the new type—called "insulin lente"—contains no extraneous protein matter to which some patients are allergic.

He said the most common allergic reaction was a "local" one—the appearance of a painful weal at the site of the insulin injection, but he added that some patients suffer a generalized reaction, marked by the appearance of hives.

And he and other doctors said such reactions sometimes make treatment difficult because because allergic patients occasionally want to skip using their needed insulin.

Colwell said the incidence of such reactions varies with the type of diabetic and the type of insulin, but he declared it ranges upwards to about 10 per cent—with this maximum figure called "protamine." He said reactions are fewer with other protein-containing insulins called "globin" and "MPH."

Paring The Hips

BY JOHN POWERS

If you have been eyeing a slim, new dress or suit, has the straightness of its skirt caused you concern? It's so easy in winter, when you can conceal figure faults with coats and heavy-textured fabrics, to let your measurements inch the tape measure upwards. But now the time has come to bring waist and hipline under control.

First, you should know the correct dimensions for your height and build. If you are not sure, I suggest you send for my figure guide titled "Your Ideal Measurements."

Even though you may qualify, on the basis of tape measurements, as one with a perfect or near-perfect figure, you probably will find that your hips can use firming.

Suppose we start today with some exercise for the hips. The director of my physical education laboratory suggests that your first routine be the rocking chair technique.

Sit cross-legged on the floor, place your hands on your knees, extend elbows outward at right angles to your body. Now rock back and forth, as far to each side as you can, still holding your balance.

Here is another exercise, simple but so effective that all the Powers Girls swear by it. Sit on the floor, extend your legs straight in front of you, and stretch your arms out parallel to the floor. Stretch first your right, then your left heel as far ahead as you can, edging your hip forward at the same time. Use your outstretched arms for balance as you move across the floor with a forward lurch and roll.

Another hip-trimming tactic is the bicycle routine; lying on your back, raise your legs high in the air, using your hands as supports to elevate the hips. Hold your shoulders flat to the floor and rotate your heels as though you were pedaling a bicycle. Start slowly, then pedal faster and faster.

Failure Of NU To Cut Grid Ticket Price Hit

OMAHA, (AP)—State Sen. Bill Moulton Thursday night said the decision of the University of Nebraska not to reduce football ticket prices in line with the excise tax cut showed a lack of business management and psychology on the part of the school.

The action, the senator said, "proves once more" that the Regents and the Athletic Department "forgot who makes possible a fine university and football team."

He asked Sen. Moulton what better way the school could have taken to show its appreciation to the fans who have supported the teams through winning and losing years, mentioning that the latter have recently been quite frequent.

One Regent, he said, had referred to the extra money the school would get as being needed for the athletic grant-in-aid program—but, said Moulton, the program was agreed on before the tax cut was made so it might be interpreted as meaning the $78,000 estimated to be gained was needed for a good team—or Nebraska couldn't have one.

Another regent, he continued, had said the athletic department itself needed the money. That, Moulton commented, might be taken to mean the department is in bad shape financially or prices would have had to be raised if the tax had been retained.

He declared his opinion of the action was "one of a long series of blunders."

Plainsman Nine Belts Doane, 18-9

CRETE—Wesleyan University's baseball team slugged Doane in a 18-9 defeat here Thursday afternoon.

Poster McGuire belted two home runs over the short right field fence for the Plainsmen and Right fielder Rainsforth clouted another.

Pete Eddy hit two homers for Doane and John Noler hit one. Westphal was the winning pitcher and Lyon the loser. Loose fielding hurt both teams.

McGuire hit four for five and Rainsforth three for five. Eddy had four hits for the losers.

A Man Who Will Never Die

"Knute Rockne? He was a great coach way back in the old days, wasn't he?"

A freshman athlete at the University of Nebraska was speaking and we looked at the lad a bit wonderingly. Then we went to this laddi-buck, one of the Huskers' bright new football hopes for next autumn, was not even born when Rockne was killed 23 years ago in an airplane crash on the windswept plains of Kansas. Terry Brennan, the present Notre Dame coach, was born only two years before Rockne died.

On a recent Sunday in South Bend, Ind., over 200 men attended the memorial mass and breakfast held every year on the anniversary of Rockne's death. Young Brennan laid a wreath on his grave in Highland Cemetery and it seemed unbelievable that Rockne had been gone so long.

For modern football men still use his ideas, his tactics and he is still Mr. Football. In the public mind, Rockne seems to live like he did when his Notre Dame teams ruled the gridiron world. He is a standard for sportsmanship and high ideals wherever the great autumn game is played.

The late Cy Sherman, a close friend of Rockne's and a national sportswriting figure, gave this writer several letters penned by the Notre Dame master. Although written in answer to good-natured criticism by Uncle Cy, the letters showed Rockne's lively sense of humor, his innate good sense and his complete honesty.

"You've got to pay the price in sweat, in effort, in sacrifice," Rockne used to tell his squads.

"When you look in a mirror, do it critically and not in admiration: there are too many egotists already. Egotism is the anaesthetic that deadens the pain of stupidity."

Think of 10 coaches of Rockne's era (if you can) and ask your son where they coached. He'll shake his head, but ask him about Rockne and he'll know.

Oh, sure his record was one of the greatest, his teams were crowned with crow-placers like the Four Horsemen and Notre Dame is forever the "peppery" choice. Rockne, the man, seems to go beyond the realm of football. His remarkable personality, his unusual understanding of human beings and high plane of his own life set goals for every football coach.

All of his traits finally weave into an answer to why he seems as much alive today as he was before death came in that Kansas wheatfield.

"Never, never, never give up... Profanity only indicates lack of knowledge... Punching is cowardly as well as illegal and usually is the excuse of a player who wants out of the game because he's taking a good licking... Never alibi... Be dignified, be decent, be a good sportsman."

Rockne lived by that code. His grasp of life enabled him to make a lot of other people live by it too.

Rockne lives on and on.

A little bird was whispering a spring song Thursday on the University of Nebraska basketball coaching post, vacated by the resignation of Harry Good.

The rumor persisted that Bob Faris, Cornhusker freshman football coach and former producer of state basketball championships at Fremont High, has strong backing for the vacant post. Faris was an All-American basketball player at Washington and Lee in the thirties.

In six seasons at Fremont, Faris' teams won the state championships and impressed with their smart, resourceful play. Colonel Lyell Bremser, among other close followers on the Husker scene, believes Faris has an inside track.

The thought is interesting.

SEWARD (AP)—Alaskans who will arrive here May 31 for the second annual Seward, Neb., Seward, Alaska, get-together have announced they are bringing a special treat—genuine Eskimo ice cream—for Nebraska's Gov. Crosby.

The recipe, according to chairman Harold Davison of the Nebraska Alaska Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, comes from an Eskimo "Cook Book." Here it is: "Grate Reindeer tallow into small pieces. Add seal oil slowly while beating with hand. After some seal oil has been used, add a little water while whipping. Continue adding seal oil and water until fluffy. Any berries can be added."

For the remainder of the expected 500 guests at the Alaska jamboree here, ice cream from a creamery in Alaska's Matanuska Valley will be supplied by the 53 visiting Alaskans.

Chiefs Win With Fancy One-Hitter

... Griffith Hurt

Lincoln Star Special
CLINTON, Texas—Charley Griffith and Vance Carlson fashioned a one-hitter here Thursday night and the Lincoln Chiefs responded with an eight-hit attack on Jim Vitter for a 5-0 victory over the Corpus Christi Clippers.

It was a costly victory for the Chiefs, however, for Griffith was hit on his pitching hand with two away in the sixth and was forced to retire. His hand was split near the middle finger and he will be sidelined a week or 10 days.

Lincoln got to Vitter for four runs in their big third inning when they batted around. Castiglione walked to start the frame and Hancock singled him to third on the hit and run. Red McQuillen doubled home for the first run. Hancock scored when Jones' throw to the plate was too late.

Tom Neill hoisted a long fly to Jim Zapp, McQuillen scoring, and Kennedy's fly to Luchebach sent Andy Anderson scampering home.

Only eighteen batters faced Griffith while he was on the mound, Jim Jones, who walked in the fourth, being the victim of a double play. Marti lived on an error by Rhodes just before the tall right-hander was forced to retire.

Griffith suffered his torn hand when Vitter hit sharply to the box.

The only Clipper single was by Harry Roberts off Vance Carlson in the seventh.

Missing from the Chiefs' lineup was veteran first baseman Moose Womack, given his release after the signing of John Paul Jones, a lefthanded first sacker who hit .267 for Shreveport in the Texas League last season.

The Chiefs were slated to leave Corpus Christi early Friday morning for Temple, Tex.

Scottsbluff Wins Invitational

Randolph Beats State Vault Champion

Lincoln Star Special
NORTH PLATTE—Scottsbluff, defending state champions, beat a 39 mile per hour wind and a stiff field to win the fifth annual North Platte Invitational Track and Field Meet here Thursday afternoon.

But it was Lincoln High's Bernie Randolph who took individual honors through his record smashing effort in the pole vault which topped the prevailing record and beat State Champion Dick Knaub of Scottsbluff. Scottsbluff finished with 79 6/7 points. Lincoln had 66 3/4, North Platte 59 4/7 and McCook 44 5/14.

Randolph, the slim Capitol City senior, went over at 12-5 3/4 while Knaub was stopped at 12-1. Both broke the record of 11-8 set by Jim Hofstetter of Kearney in 1950.

Knaub came back to crack the three-year-old broad jump mark set by Don Schlittiemer of Scottsbluff at 20-10 1/4, but the strong wind nullified his performance as an official record.

Knaub leaped 22 feet.

Dale Zier of the western champions won the 100-yard dash and passed Don Ficke of Lincoln in the last 25 yards to take the 220.

McCook won the mile relay and the medley while Lincoln took the two mile relay.

Knaub beat the field in the 18-year olds in 22.5. Jerry Miller of North Platte was leading slightly but tripped on the last hurdle and finished fifth.

100-yard dash—Won by Zier (S); 2-D.

Tourney Dates Slated
The State Catholic Basketball tournament will be held Jan. 5-8, 1955, in St. Cecilia's Gymnasium at Hastings, according to an announcement by Msgr. G. J. Schuster, diocesan youth director.

The tourney, sponsored by the Diocese of Lincoln, will be an invitational affair.

Gallery Favorite Hogan Shoots Par For 4th Spot

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—An old pro with an aching back and a healthy young amateur shared the first day lead in the 18th Masters Golf Tournament Thursday as a rainstorm spoiled the hopes of the top golfing tourists.

Dutch Harrison, the pro who talks with an Arkansas twang but registers from Ardmore, Okla., and amateur Billy Joe Patton, a Morganton, N.C., lumberman, got a generous assist from the weather in making their two-under-par 70s good for a first place tie.

A sudden, soaking storm blew across the Augusta National Course just after the galleries had watched their idol, Ben Hogan, come in with an even par 72. Harrison was about the only one who played through it without suffering serious consequences.

Harrison, a 40-plus veteran who had to quit the winter tour a couple of times because of an injured back, had a round of 34-36-70 playing five hole through the worst of the storm. Patton, who finished before the clouds gathered, shot 33-70.

One stroke behind, and the only other players to break par Thursday, were Jackie Burke of Kiamnesia Lake, N.Y., with 38-33-71, and Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., with 36-35-71.

These three were about the only ones in the record field of 79 starters who didn't have some complaint about the placing of the pins on the greens. Putting trouble as well as rain plagued the tournament stars. Even Hogan, whose 36-36-72 tied him with tall, thin Dave Douglas for fourth place, had some sharp words about the pin positions.

The two 70's were the highest leading scores for the first round of the Masters since Harry Cooper showed the way with the same score in 1936.

Par for the 6,800 yards of the sprawling, flower-decked Augusta National Course is 36-36-72. Under the conditions, it was very hard to match.

Lew Worsham and Vic Ghezzi, who threatened Patton's early lead with sub-par performances, faltered in the rain coming back. Ghezzi, out in 33, complained he couldn't grip his club properly in the driving rain and came back with a 40. Worsham, out in 34, also had a 40 on the back nine after he flubbed an easy shot into a creek on the 13th.

In times of prosperity and extra leisure, it seems that men get a hankering for classier threads. Way back at the end of the Dark Ages males of the day blossomed out in bonnets that drooped to their chests, and fancy shoes with toes so long they had to be held up by a string tied to the knee.

When England was going great guns at the time of the first Queen Elizabeth, Sir Walter Raleigh and the rest of the dandies of the day put the rainbow to shame. WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Army-Navy-Air Force security program aimed at keeping the armed forces free of subversives and other security risks was announced by Secretary of Defense Wilson.

Wilson told the Senate Armed Services Committee the new directive will provide uniform standards for all the services and speed up our procedures for letting such individuals out of the service and for keeping them out.

One controversial feature: "Known Communists will not be inducted into the Armed Services." That means, in effect, automatic draft exemptions for young Communists who otherwise would be subject to military service.

Review Ordered

Wilson also disclosed he has ordered a review of the cases of all military personnel cleared under prior directives.

All told, he said, "We hope this will really do the job. We are confident that it will."

The new directive requires, among other things, loyalty certificates from all applicants for enlistment, members of reserve units and inductees of any rank.

It says inductees who don't fill out loyalty questionnaires "satisfactorily" or whose questionnaires show "significant derogatory information" will be kept in non-sensitive assignments at the lowest pay grade until they have been thoroughly investigated.

Discharges "under other than honorable conditions" are ordered for any whom it would be "inconsistent with the interests of national security" to keep in uniform.

Loyalty cases are not the only ones covered. The directive calls for separation from the service of any personnel guilty of (1) purposely disclosing classified information, (2) infamous, dishonest or immoral conduct, (3) drunkenness or drug addiction, or (4) behavior or associations which show the person "not reliable or trustworthy."

This parallels the standards announced by the Eisenhower administration for civilian employees of the government.

Issuance of the new order came in the wake of—though not specifically in response to—criticisms by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) of the way the Army in particular had been handling alleged subversives. Several members of the Armed Services Committee also have said there seemed to be a lack of uniform policy.

The best-known case cited by McCarthy was that of a dentist who was commissioned, promoted and honorably discharged although he refused to fill out a loyalty questionnaire. The Army said it had no satisfactory way of dealing with that officer under existing law. The Pentagon is pushing a bill giving the services more discretion in such cases.

The general policy outlined by the new directive is that the military will assume acceptance or retention of any men is consistent with national security "unless and until a determination to the contrary is made."

"However," the order said, "when credible information which raises the question of security is received, action will be taken to determine whether acceptance or retention is consistent with the interests of national security."

"In no case will any person reasonably believed to have at any time engaged in the (subversive) activities listed be appointed or enlisted in any of the Armed Service without the approval of the secretary of the Armed Service concerned."

Either a court martial or administrative proceedings, the latter subject to review by the service secretaries, are provided for men found to be security risks. The order says the circumstances will determine which course should be followed.

It says the services must investigate any information about a man which points to subversive activity in the past, including espionage, sabotage or advocating forcible overthrow of the government.

Rail Board Sets Tariff Hearing

The State Railway Commission has scheduled a hearing for April 20 on proposed regulation under which motor carriers would publish their own tariffs.

If no objections are filed, the rules will take effect April 21.

The attorney general ruled recently that the Commission was without authority to use state funds to cover cost of publishing motor carrier tariffs.

The railroads had published their tariffs for years, but the Commission had published motor carrier tariffs until the recent attorney general's ruling.

Carriers may publish their tariffs individually, or they can band together for the publication.

Dietetics Training Good Insurance, Graduates Told

Dietetics training is just about the best insurance a girl can have because the nation must always eat, Mrs. Clara Snyder, former director for the Wheat Flour Institute in Chicago, said in an address here.

The occasion was the Lincoln Institution Directors and Dietitians' Association dinner at the YWCA held in honor of the graduating dietitians at the University of Nebraska.

Food handling, like other things in society, has advanced to a point where an expert is not only desirable, but necessary, she said. This means that the demand for dietitians is continually increasing, she said.

Mrs. Snyder is now a consultant in consumer services. Her husband, Dr. L. B. Snyder, is a professor of Agriculture Economics at the University of Nebraska. More than 50 persons attended the dinner meeting.

Sen. Ferguson To Sponsor Aid Plan For City Evacuation Roads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) said he will soon sponsor a multi-million dollar program of federal aid to cities for construction of high-ways to speed evacuation in case of enemy attack.

Ferguson said in an interview that if another war came major U.S. cities should be stripped of all but their essential population centers, such as defense plant workers.

Ferguson, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, persuaded the Senate to agree to a 10-million-dollar federal aid program to cities for planning and building radial and access superhighways.

The money was added to a two billion dollar, two-year federal road aid program which the Senate approved by voice vote and sent back to the House, which earlier approved a similar bill carrying $1,800,000,000, the amount asked by President Eisenhower. Unless the House accepts the bigger figure, a compromise will be necessary.

Federal highway aid is now running at a rate of 650 million dollars annually. The Senate bill, covering the two years starting July 1, 1955, also contains a feature under which the President may advance payments to the states one year ahead of time.

The Senate adopted, after lengthy debate, a new formula distributing funds for what is called the interstate highway system. Instead of allocating these to states on the basis of population, area and post road mileage, as at present, both the Senate and House bills would split the total 150-million-dollar annual allotment for this purpose. Half would be distributed on the present basis, the other half on the basis of population alone.

The Senate defeated 44-37 an amendment by Sen. Chavez (D-NM) to retain the present method. Chavez said the new formula would give a bigger share of federal money to 19 more populous states.

Present allocation of federal funds for the primary, secondary and urban systems was not changed in either bill.

Ferguson, without saying when he might offer a full-scale evacuation highway measure, said the cost would run into "billions of dollars."

Most of the amount, he said, would have to be contributed by the federal government, with cities supplying the balance. On his general idea, Ferguson said: "You can't have a defense against aerial attack today by jumping in a shelter. The only defense is not to be there when the attack comes."

Ferguson said 30 to 40 cities should have speedy exit highways designed to carry maximum traffic out of the city in the shortest possible time.

Norfolk Driver Fined $50 For Leaving Scene

State Legion Won't Take CD Site Stand Now
BLAIR, Neb. (AP)—The Nebraska American Legion is not going to take a stand on the proposal to convert the Grand Island Veterans hospital to a Federal Civil Defense headquarters until more is known of the prospects. Department Commander Clark O'Hanlon of Blair says.
O'Hanlon has received comments from the executive committee on the proposal, which he said range all the way from "no" to "yes" but he emphasized that the executive committee was asked for opinions rather than a vote.
He said the Legion, as a veteran's organization, has a prime interest in veteran welfare, and would want to make certain that there are adequate hospital facilities for veterans in the state's other two Veterans' Administration Hospitals before endorsing any proposal which would take the Grand Island Hospital out of service.
O'Hanlon said he also is waiting for word from Grand Island Chamber of Commerce officials, who were scheduled to discuss the proposed shift with Federal Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson.
The executive committee was asked for opinions after speculation arose that Grand Island might be a possible site for the Federal Civil Defense headquarters as part of a decentralization move.
Such a move would involve 600 families and about $3½ million a year.
Arguments in favor of offering the VA hospital for an OCD headquarters include the fact that the hospital has never operated at capacity. On the other hand, some feel that if the hospital is turned over to another agency it might prejudice any future efforts to bring another VA hospital to Nebraska.
Several other states, including Iowa, were reported bidding strongly for the headquarters. One source said it originally had been planned to move the headquarters to Indian Gap, Pa., but there have been efforts to take it elsewhere.

WASHINGTON (AP)—An elaborate "good will" luncheon thrown by the U. S. government for foreign diplomats wound up in a wretched walkout by Arab guests and a flurry of apologies for the remarks of an American Jewish speaker.

Four Arab state diplomats and an unidentified Arab friend left in high dudgeon, some of them banging their chairs to the floor, after Dr. Norman Salit of New York assailed Arab tactics and referred to Israel as "the only democracy in the Near East."

Salit, president of the Synagogue Council of America, later sent a written apology to Secretary of State Dulles and Postmaster General Summerfield, co-sponsors of the luncheon, and asked that it be passed along to the offended Arabs.

Summerfield himself told the embassies of Iraq, Syria, Saudi Arabia and Egypt that Salit's remarks were "a source of deep personal regret" to him.

The luncheon, in the grand ballroom of the fashionable Shoreham Hotel, was held to publicize the new 8-cent "liberty" stamp for overseas mail, a red-white-and-blue issue designed to advertise the American way of life throughout the world.

Most of Washington's diplomatic corps attended. So did Dulles and Vice-President Nixon, among other American officials. It was quite a production, with gift stamp albums for some of the eminent guests and a New York advertising firm (the Kuder-Kudner Agency) helping with the publicity.

The air of good feeling suddenly chilled when Salit stopped talking about the ideals of brotherhood and touched with unapologetic bitterness on the Arab-Israel dispute.

Out of the ballroom in a body strode three ambassadors—Syria's Farid Zeineddine, Saudi Arabia's Asad Al Faghi and Iraq's Shabandar; Egyptian Charge d'Affairs Fahmy; and a fifth man believed at the time to be from the Lebanese Embassy.

That embassy said later it had no official representative at the luncheon, but hastened to add: "If we had been there, we would certainly have joined the walk-out."

Attempt Made To Show American Bus Salaries Below Comparable Carriers

OMAHA (AP)—The Amalgamated Assn. of Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees (AFL) attempted to show Thursday afternoon that wages paid by the American Buses, Inc., were below those of comparable carriers.

Eli Oliver, Washington, labor researcher and economist, was questioned by Hans J. Lehmann, Chicago labor attorney, as to wages and fringe benefits of workers in the transportation as well as other industries.

Lehmann offered in evidence numerous exhibits covering such things as wages and working conditions as well as revenues of companies engaged in public transportation.

The testimony was given at a hearing in Federal District Court to determine the status of two agreements between the company and the union, which represents 775 American employees.

Federal Act

The company has been reorganizing under provisions of the Federal Bankruptcy Act. Richard W. Smith, Lincoln attorney, is trustee of the reorganization program.

Also testifying were Gordon Green, President of Division 1648, Cheyenne, Wyo., and Edward Oliver, Indianapolis, executive union board manager. Both testified as to prior labor disputes with American Buses.

Earl S. Satter, Omaha, testified American lost $521,400 during the first three months of 1954. It was brought out that the figure was about the same as for a similar period in 1953.

A sharp drop in gross income was blamed for this year's drop.

George Healey, Lincoln, attorney for American, told of preparing and filing the petition for reorganization.

The hearing was recessed until Friday morning, attorneys for both sides expressed belief the case could be completed Friday.

At issue is an arbitration agreement between the union and the company. Before termination of the contract, both parties had proposed contract changes. In the absence of an agreement, the matter of those proposals was to be turned over to an arbitration board.

The trustees of the firm contend the contract is no longer in effect. The union, however, contends both the contract and the arbitration agreement are in force. American, a division of Transcontinental Trailways, operated in 29 states.

Earlier, William F. Aikman, Lincoln, Neb., said salaries of non-union personnel had been reduced $60,000 annually, or an average of 14 per cent; economies had been perfected in maintenance shops, and certain short bus schedules had been eliminated where revenues were inadequate.

Aikman testified that since the reorganization had begun Feb. 10 under Trustee Richard W. Smith, that reduction in maintenance shops and other operating expenditures totaled $123,150 a year. Adding salaries, he said, the total annual savings so far is $183,150.

Farm Hauling Hearings Set

Farm commodity rates for motor transportation is proposed in Resolution 146, Division G, by the State Railway Commission group rates set. The proposal would determine where farm-to-market travel ends and where market-to-market transportation starts.

Hearings have been set on dairy products for June 14, livestock on June 15 and grain, hay and feed on June 16.

The action is expected to end confusion as to whether truckers or agricultural commodities are transporting them from the farm to market or whether they actually are transporting them from market to market.

The commission says the resolution does not affect farmers who are exempt in hauling their produce to market.

The proposal would bring under regulation haulers who pick up produce from a farm in town and then haul it to another town. An example cited was where a milk company picks up milk on farms and hauls it to town and then after it is made into butter a non-regulated hauler picks it up for delivery to another city.

U.S. Airmen Court Fickle 'Jet-Stream' For Free High Speed Plane Boosts

TOKYO (Friday) (INS) — America's military airmen today are waging an intensive campaign to court a fickle wisp of air over to our side.

It is called the jet-stream and speeds around the world from west to east at high altitudes. When their research campaign is finished, airmen will be able to fly non-stop more than half way around the world, boosted along by a free push of up to 400 miles an hour.

For a commercial traveller, it will mean flying non-stop from Tokyo to New York in about half the time he flies to San Francisco now.

It means that a bomber could take off from the U. S., attack Russian targets, and set down at some American base in the Pacific.

Power of Air

Right now, in the pioneering stage of jet-stream research, Pan-American passenger planes have flown from Tokyo to Hawaii non-stop, and because of the jet-stream and the international date line, landed their passengers in Honolulu "before" they took off from Tokyo—as clocks are read.

The jet-stream is a bucking, speeding river of air which rushes along at altitudes above 15,000 feet and at speeds up to 400 m.p.m.

A plane getting into the jet stream gets a "free" acceleration which can increase its range to limits which have not yet been discovered.

But the trouble with the jet-stream is its fickleness.

It is extremely unpredictable and full of quirks—it changes course with the seasons, for instance, varies in altitude, sometimes gets "lost," and runs in only one direction, west to east.

There is more than one jet-stream. Northwest Airlines, which flies from Japan to the U. S. through Alaska, will use the northern jet stream whenever they can find it.

Ride the Stream

Pan-American tries to plot meticulously the jet stream for the six months of the year it comes down to altitudes available to them and then instruct Tokyo-Hawaii pilots to climb into it and ride in across the Pacific.

Here, another problem crops up. The jet stream does not directly pass over Honolulu and so weather technicians must carefully plot the opportune moment for the pilot to climb down out of the stream and head for Hawaii.

Last February, a special two-plane Air Force research flight rode the jet stream non-stop from an airbase near Tokyo to Limestone Air Force Base in Maine in 28 hours!

The higher the jet stream blows, the highest its velocity. And with the necessary structural modifications to make planes capable of challenging and conquering these high-blown air currents, airlines will be able to double their speeds and range with no increase in fuel costs.

'Hat Parade' Highlights Women's Program

Members of the Geneva Junior Club don funny bonnets as they participate in a skit—"The Hat Parade"—in conjunction with the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs

NFWC Fetes Mrs. Martin

Mrs. Carl Martin of Beemer, was awarded the Junior Club Member 100 Per Cent Citizenship award Thursday evening at the 58th annual convention of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs being held in Lincoln.

The mother of four small children, Mrs. Beemer won the award for her outstanding contributions to her community. She is a member of the Beemer Woman's Club, serves as superintendent and teacher for the community Sunday School, is a past matron of Eastern Star and a district president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Because of the illness of one of her children, Mrs. Beemer was not able to attend the convention to receive her award.

Mrs. William Huxford, Grand Island, director of the junior clubs, and Mrs. Oscar Warp of Minden, state president, presided at the evening banquet at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Delia Fisher of Geneva directed "Hat Parade" and Mrs. Lloyd White of Kansas City, Mo., gave the 1,923rd talk she has made on her philosophy of hats.

Mrs. White maintains that every hat has a personality of its own and she has a special name for each of her hats, from "Under Cover," a sequin-covered black flapper hat, to "Sweetheart," a demure pink velvet.

Mrs. Hugh Stander of Papillion and Mrs. Heath Griffith of Beatrice sang solos, accompanied by Mrs. Roland Christensen of Minden.

About 800 women are registered for the convention which closes Friday.

Doniphan School Bond Issue OK'd

Lincoln Star Special

DONIPHAN, Neb. — By an overwhelming vote, Doniphan residents Thursday approved a $97,000 school bond issue by a count of 258 to 38.

The funds will be used for the construction of an auditorium-gymnasium. The structure will also include two classrooms, kindergarten and first and second grades; a lunchroom, enabling the school to have a hot lunch program; and a music room.

Twice in 1936 the proposal for a school auditorium was rejected by the Doniphan voters.

Wayne L. Moritz, 19, of Loup City was remanded to jail after failure to pay a $100 fine after pleading guilty to careless driving in Municipal Court.

The fine was levied by Judge John Jacobson after Moritz pleaded guilty. The car he was driving had collided with a Union Pacific freight five miles south of Lincoln on March 22 in the early morning. Moritz's car was completely demolished in the accident, and a freight car was derailed. But neither Moritz nor a passenger was injured.
